Need to place an item on the first court agenda in the new building:

The CC Historical Commission needs to be recognized for receiving two awards from the Texas State Historical Commission (at their annual conference next week). For the fourth year in a row, they are receiving a Distinguished Service Award, and this year they will be receiving the coveted Award of Excellence in Preserving History (which honors an individual, organization or project that has significantly contributed to the understanding or preservation of Texas history. Specifically recognizes achievements in preservation planning, historic site identification, preservation of significant archival or artifact collections, or research that leads to a greater understanding of state or local history), for their Carry Along Collin program.
