Providing false or misleading information may subject the contractor to administrative penalties, criminal penalties, civil penalties, or other civil actions.

3.1.2.11 The contractor's failure to comply with any of these provisions is a breach of contract by the contractor which entitles the governmental entity to declare the contract void if the contractor does not remedy the breach within ten days after receipt of notice of breach from the governmental entity.

Can I fax or e-mail my disposition forms to the TCEQ?

No. The TERP program needs the original signed copies of the disposition forms; therefore, all disposition forms must be mailed in or hand delivered.

What photos are required to be sent in with the form?

See the checklist found in this section or on the actual disposition form. It is recommended to take several different pictures of each required photo so that we can easily identify the proper destruction of the old equipment.

If a scrappage yard or recycling company is going to do the disposition for me, then what do I need to send in to the TCEQ?

You will need to send in the following

- Form 3a (replacement) or Form 3b(repower)
- Disposition Photos
- Written documentation (receipt) provided by the salvage or recycling company that destroyed your equipment.

Scrappage

How large does the hole in the engine block have to be?

Three inches or larger, making the engine unable to operate. The hole cannot be made on a plate that can be removed from the engine.

Where do I cut equipment frame?

As close to the cab as possible.

How much of the equipment frame needs to be cut?

At least 75 percent of the frame needs to be cut in a wedge cut as close to the cab as possible.

Can I use parts of the old equipment once my disposition is complete?

Yes. Once disposition is complete, you can sell the old equipment for scrap metal value, sell parts, or have it be your new lawn decoration. The only thing not acceptable is to make the old equipment operate again.

If I receive money for the scappage of my old equipment, then do I keep the money?

Yes. The TERP program accounts for the value of the old equipment on the reimbursement form's incremental cost calculation.

Can I sell my old equipment to someone for use out of the eligible counties, state or country?

No. The old equipment must be scrapped by drilling a hole in the engine block and cutting the frame. The only exception is locomotive projects with an approved disposition plan.
