This project will provide the North Central Texas Fusion Center (NCTFC) continued analytical capability by extending the funding to employ a mid-level intelligence analyst and two entry-level intelligence analysts (3 positions) for a period of 12 months. The NCTFC has been operational since February of 2006 and analysts provide tactical intelligence analysis to regional, state, and federal partners, incorporates numerous state of the art analytical tools, and facilitates the preparation/distribution of bulletins, requests for information (RFI), and other analytical products. The NCTFC also provides intelligence-led, all-hazards, strategic and tactical threat prevention and mitigation capabilities that enhance the security of the region's citizens. In order to facilitate the exchange of information in the North Central Texas region, the Fusion Liaison Officer (FLO) Network was created as a force multiplier for law enforcement and first responder agencies. The goal of this program is to produce an environment that will strengthen information gathering, the sharing of timely intelligence, and the enhancement of multi-jurisdictional partnerships. The network was developed in an effort to provide participants an effective means of sharing information related to local, regional, national, and global criminal threats, suspicious activity, and large scale incidents. The FLO Network integrates participants into a regional system of resources through a process of combining local fire and law enforcement agencies, emergency management, public health, federal and state partners, and key private organizations into an effective and sustainable two-way flow of information. This network will work to ensure that vital disciplines participate in the fusion process and serve as the conduit through which homeland security and crime related information flows to the fusion center for assessment, analysis, and dissemination. The network also serves that the vehicle to carry actionable intelligence from the national level and regional fusion centers to field personnel throughout the state and region.
