Commander Palmisano-

The Anna Fire Department, is attempting to upgrade our communications capability. We are attempting to accomplish this goal by upgrading radios, and adding ICS capability to the apparatus. As, you know the software for the ICS system is expensive.

The Department, needs five Toughbook computers and mounts if available, to completely outfit our apparatus.

I was curious, if the County Sheriff's Office had any of the old Toughbook units available that were removed from the patrol vehicles recently to allow for install of new equipment.

These units, if available would increase communications between the dispatch office and firefighters on the scene. Which, would increase the effectiveness of the department and increase firefighter safety.

Your assistance is very much appreciated.

Respectfully;

Tim Gothard
Fire Chief / E.M.C.
