Micro Rain MR25

$3,000

The current method of watering the Show Barn, staff must water by hand to reach all the corners completely, set up and move standing sprinklers every 15 – 30 – 60 minutes, plus check on standing sprinklers to ensure they haven't fallen over during watering. The Micro Rain MR25 is a self-retracting sprinkler that attaches to a water hose. There is 207 feet of hose available to pull out to water and retract that will cover one full length of the show barn arena. To completely water the show barn from the hog area to the practice side it would only take three pulls of the Micro Rain with little to no constant monitoring.
