

Bond Election Steps

1. Determine whether a bond election is necessary.
2. Set election date- November 17, 2023 is the next available date. The election must be officially “ordered” no later than August 21, 2023. As an example, the 2017 bond election was approved by the Court on June 26, 2017.
3. Determine needs and categories/propositions and any limitations. As an example, the 2017 propositions included language restricting bonds limited access roads.
 - a. Facilities
 - b. Open Space
 - c. Road
4. Set the dollar amount for each proposition
5. Determine whether to involve standing committees (Planning Board, Open Space, etc.) or create new committees to support the bond election including public outreach.
